

Mathias: Then they prayed, "You, Lord, who know the hearts of all, show which one of these two you have chosen to on which he was taken up from us, become with us a witness to his resurrection." So they proposed two, Joseph called Barsabbas, who was also known as Justus, and with pieces of plasticine if necessary to keep the roof pieces at the correct angle.

Next, glue two side wall pieces onto the roof pieces, laying and gluing a floor piece under the two side wall pieces at the same time. Allow the glue to dry.

Make another layer of two roof pieces, two side wall pieces and a floor piece, this time gluing all five at the same time. Allow the glue to dry. Repeat this layering another three or four times, depending on how deep you want your shrine or station to be.

When the station is deep enough, glue on a back wall, with popsicle sticks laid horizontally across the back. You will have to trim the pieces in the peak of the roof. (Children above the age of eight can safely use a small hack saw, or an adult can cut them with a sharp kitchen knife.

Turn the shrine over, front face up. Using four small segments of popsicle sticks, add another two layers of floor, so that the floor extends a bit beyond the side walls, as shown in the illustration of the first page.

Glue your picture, holy card or station into the shrine and set it aside to dry.
